Dr. Binzel testifies before House panel

WCH doctor supports laetrile use

COLUMBUS — Dr. Philip E. Binzel of Washington C.H. told an Ohio House of Representatives committee Wednesday that laetrile is a valuable weapon in the fight against cancer.

The Washington C.H. physician, who has been a longtime advocate of laetrile, was testifying before the House Health and Retirement Committee which is considering a bill to legalize the substance in Ohio.

Laetrile, which is technically known as Vitamin B-17 and is derived from apricot pits, is banned by the Federal Food and Drug Administration as an unlicensed new drug. However, state legislatures in Indiana, Alaska, Florida, and Nevada have legalized its use.

Dr. Binzel told the state legislators that laetrile is not a miracle drug nor a cancer cure. However, he called the substance a valuable part of a nutritional program to activate defense mechanisms in cancer patients.

He said that when laetrile is taken with vitamins and enzymes in a carefully planned diet, the drug helps the body's defense mechanisms to isolate and "wall off" a tumor. The diet usually prescribed is free of red meat, sugar, white flour and any other foods with preservatives.

Dr. Binzel, 542 Washington Ave., who has been prescribing laetrile for cancer patients during the past three years, stressed that when taken alone laetrile would probably bring poor results.

"The doctors who are using the total nutritional program are getting good results," he said. "My results are far better than I have seen in 22 years of practice when only surgery and cobalt and chemotherapy are used."

Dr. Binzel criticized the FDA for banning the drug. He told the committee that he has administered nearly 4,000 laetrile injections without a single adverse reaction.

He also suggested that the FDA would be reluctant to admit the laetrile ban was wrong.

"If the FDA told the public 'we goofed in banning laetrile,' it would create a public furor and Congress would abolish the FDA within a week," he said.

Dr. Binzel also reported that the Ohio State Medical Association considered action to lift his medical license two years ago because of his use of laetrile.

However, Dr. Binzel personally feels he has never broken the FDA ban. Even though he prescribes and administers laetrile, it is up to the patients to obtain the drug.

When he finished his testimony, a number of elderly women in the committee room applauded.

Slate Rep. Patrick A. Sweeney, D-6 Cleveland, is sponsoring the bill to legalize laetrile in Ohio. The bill would permit the production and over-the-counter sale of laetrile.

Dr. Binzel opposed the over-the-counter sale of laetrile, saying it could be abused.

Future hearings on the bill are scheduled in Cincinnati, Cleveland, and Toledo. Dr. Binzel is not expected to testify at these hearings.

Rep. Sweeney reportedly became interested in laetrile after his secretary, a patient of Dr. Binzel, made a rapid recovery from a cancerous tumor in her chest.

Before doctors discovered the tumor, Carol Pychewicz, was treated for respiratory infection, thyroid trouble, nerves, and tonsils that had grown back.

Treatments for those diagnoses failed to stop the 27-year-old secretary's coughing and chest pains.

After the tumor was detected, the Columbus woman underwent chemotherapy.

"I lost my hair from head to foot — I never had to shave my legs — and I had sores in and around my mouth, and cramps," she recalled of the chemotherapy treatment.

Finally, fearing the treatments more than the disease, Mrs. Pychewicz took a gamble. She sought laetrile treatment.

She began taking the drug last September. By December, she said, x-rays disclosed the tumor had disappeared.

She is presently continuing treatment under Dr. Binzel's nutritional program which includes laetrile "pills."

PROBLEM FOR TEACHERS — Five sets of twins in the 160-student Staunton Elementary School has posed a problem for teachers this year. Double trouble

STAUNTON — The faculty at Staunton Elementary School has had a unique situation to cope with this year.

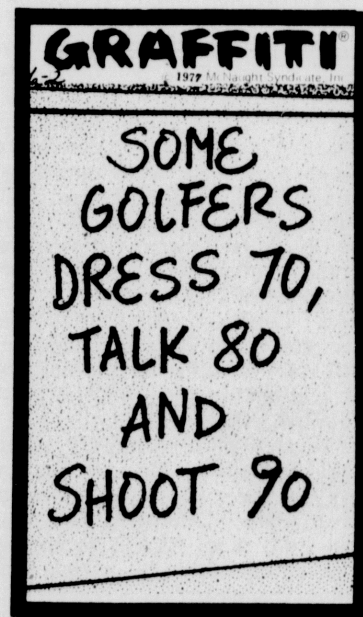

There are five sets of twins enrolled in the Miami Trace School District school which only has a total enrollment of approximately 160 students. Three of the sets are identical twins, making identification difficult at times.

Jerri Bomgardner, principal at Staunton Elementary School, said she and the other teachers had a sure method of telling first graders Judy and Trudy Grooms apart, but it is no longer applicable. The two dark-haired, freckle-faced twins were identified by their teeth. Now, neither twin has her teeth, which leads to an occasional mistaken identity.

The Staunton Elementary School twins are Andy and John Wolfe, first grade sons of Mrs. F. Kathryn Wolfe, 1916 Zimmerman Road; Judy and Trudy Grooms, first grade daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Grooms, of Bloomingburg; Michelle and Melinda Clemans, first grade daughters of Mrs. Sharon Clemans, Rowe Ging Road; Rusty and Richie Stookey, kindergarten students and sons of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Stookey, 1428 N. North St., and Tiffany and Stephanie Smith, second grade daughters of Mr. and Mrs. C. David Smith, Jamison Road.

The problem of identifying the twins will be solved today as the students will be dismissed for summer vacations.

Two more bodies recovered from Beverly Hills rubble

SOUTHGATE, Ky. (AP) — A swarm of flies drew investigators to two more charred bodies hidden by debris late Wednesday, raising the death toll in the Beverly Hills Supper Club fire to 161.

The bodies were found two days after Southgate Fire Chief Dick Riesenborg said he was certain there were no more victims in the piles of rubble that once was one of the Midwest's slickest nightspots.

The dead were identified as Mrs. Lenora Hill Gentry and Mrs. Charlene Matthews, both of Cincinnati. Campbell County Coroner Fred Stine said both were part of a 105-member Gospel choral group. The others escaped.

The coroner's office had revised the death count upward to 159 before the additional bodies were discovered.

Meanwhile, officials said they had ruled out arson in the club which entertained some 3,500 people Saturday night. They also set the location of the fire's origin in the club's Zebra Room where a wedding party left shortly before the blaze erupted.

That room, near the front right side of the posh club, was below a second story party room where the latest victims were thought to have died.

Kentucky State Police Commissioner Ken Brandenburg confirmed that evidence showed paper napkins and other flammable debris had been stacked against the wall of the Zebra Room. He would not speculate whether the fire began in that location.

"We're getting very close to determining how the fire started," Brandenburg said.

The wedding party left the room at 8:25 p.m. The Southgate fire department received the alarm at 9:02 p.m. A the city limits 1,000 feet past the present U.S. 35 bypass on the south and west, to Ohio 729 on the east and to Hickory Lane on the north.

The main questions were why the city wants to annex the land and could annexation occur if the residents of the land did not wish to be in the city.

Coffman stated that a major factor in any proposed annexation plan was to consider how large a city wants to be and how large people living around the city want it to be.

He added that he and his colleagues are simply technicians making an objective study from a city planning standpoint. He stated that one of the reasons the public meeting was held to solicit the views of area residents on the firm's preliminary recommendations.

Coffman also noted that the annexation plan simply outlined areas that could be annexed as growth developed.

"The master plan is sort of a blueprint. It's the guideline of where you're going. It isn't the gospel," Coffman said.

The amount of questions concerning the annexation of county land to the city prompted Coffman to ask how many persons in attendance were not Washington C.H. residents. More than half the audience raised their hands.

Coffman then stated that the city would not annex land over the objection of a majority of landowners in a particular area.

One woman asked if the city was trying to annex land to help fund the city sewer system. A number of city officials in attendance answered no.

Coffman pointed out that the annexation recommendations were made by his firm and not by city officials.

questions was the proposal to straighten Damon Drive which leads into the Belle-Aire Subdivision.

The city planners had proposed that the curve on Damon Drive be removed and a traffic signal be placed at the Ohio 41-S intersection. This, the study reported, would allow a direct route into the subdivision which could double in size over the next 20 years.

Several persons questioned the proposal, saying that the curve was placed on Damon Drive to keep traffic speeds at a minimum. Coffman suggested that the recommendation was made to avoid a large number of curb cuts onto Ohio 41-S, and that possibly a direct route to the subdivision could be constructed south of the present intersection to avoid the straightening of Damon Drive.

Again, Coffman noted that the master plan is simply a guideline for city officials to utilize in the next 20 years, and not set plans that city officials must follow.

The master plan update is being partially funded by the city, but a majority of the money was allocated under a state planning grant. The present study is an attempt to update the last city master plan which was formulated in 1962.

Conspicuously missing from the Godwin-Bohm study are plans for the downtown Washington C.H. business district. Coffman said that the downtown area should be studied on a separate basis and was not contained in the present study due to a lack of time and money.

waitress discovered the fire and reported it to other employees who then began fighting the blaze and warning patrons. Brandenburg said in reconstructing what happened just before the fire began to claim victims.

The commissioner confirmed that investigators from the National Fire Prevention Association were studying the aftermath. The organization is a private group that routinely examines major fires.

"Frankly, their expertise will help us avoid having to say, 'The fire is of undetermined origin,'" Brandenburg said.

He also said the NFPA experts had found nothing suprising about the fire. "They haven't been stumped by any of the facts," Brandenburg said.

Brandenburg also appealed to all patrons and employees, the night of the fire, to send his investigators postcards giving their names, their location in the club when the fire broke out and how they got out.

He said the cards might help determine the path and cause of the fire.

Over interest rates

Carter and Burns have falling-out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Suddenly everything isn't so cozy between the Carter administration and Chairman Arthur Burns of the Federal Reserve Board.

The President didn't seem to mind when Burns almost single-handedly scuttled the new president's $50 tax rebate plan. Carter said the economy was getting along fine without it.

But the administration is making it clear it doesn't like recent actions by Burns and the board to increase short-term interest rates.

Bert Lance, Carter's budget director, has been highly critical of banks for raising their prime interest rate twice in recent weeks to 6 3/4 per cent. He warns their actions could impede economic growth and encourage inflation.

While Lance denied he was seeking a confrontation with Burns, sources left little doubt Wednesday that Burns is the target of the criticism because he and the board took the actions that caused banks to hike their interest rates.

"They aren't going to take Burns head-on," one White House source said. "They are talking to bankers, but they hope other people will listen," with the 73-year-old Burns being one of the "other people," he added.

Burns, an appointee of former President Richard M. Nixon, is nearing the end of his term as chairman of the Federal Reserve Board. Carter has not said whether he intends to reappoint him chairman when the term ends in January.

The Federal Reserve has decided to tighten growth in the money supply out of concern that inflation could be getting out of hand and also out of worry that the money supply was growing too fast.

The money supply grew at a record annual rate of 19 per cent in April, which Burns and the board clearly felt was excessive and inflationary. Its target for money growth for the year is 4.5 to 6.5 per cent.

When the Federal Reserve tightens the money supply, it takes money out of the banking system, which causes a tightening of credit and higher interest rates.

Ohio may go easier on drunk drivers

House members that the mandatory sentence is being ignored by many judges anyway, and that it has not acted as a deterrent to drinking drivers.

The Senate, meanwhile, approved and sent the House a bill that regulates motor-powered bicycles, known as mopeds, for the first time in Ohio, requiring testing and a $2 operators' license while setting 14 as the minimum age for riding the vehicles.

Members of the Senate Finance Committee began consideration of the so-called "intent" part of majority Democrats' two-year budget package. They put into the bill language that directs the way in which the

But Lance told reporters Wednesday there is a clear risk that the short-term interest increases could result in higher long-term rates, which could discourage home-buying and business investment, besides slowing economic growth.

"The American people see high interest rates as synonymous with high inflation," Lance said. "We need interest rates that are at a reasonable, stable level to encourage business investment."

A spokesman for Burns said he would have no comment on Lance's remarks, made at a news briefing.

Burns warned Congress on May 3 that inflation "casts a cloud on our nation's ability to maintain a satisfactory rate of economic growth into 1978 and beyond." Prices increased at a 10 per cent annual rate during the first four months of the year, much worse than expected.

The Carter administration argues that the recent surge in inflation is only temporary, the impact of the winter weather on food and fuel supplies.

Republican administration will be able to spend Ohio's funds.

Finance Chairman Harry Meshel, D-33 Youngstown, offered the measure to avoid line item vetoes by Gov. James A. Rhodes—each of which would take a vote of the two chambers to override. In 1975, the GOP governor applied 72 line item vetoes to the budget, most of them involving intent language. Unlike the present, Democrats then didn't have enough votes to override.

It is expected that Rhodes will reject the intent measure totally, but this way, it will take only a single roll call to override, Meshel explained. The governor said Democrats are using the device to invade what he considers to be executive branch prerogatives.

The bill easing Ohio's drunk driving statutes, enacted in 1968 as part of the Omnibus Highway Safety Act, triggered stormy debate in the House before being sent to the Senate, where approval is expected.

But he claims that natural gas pricing should be under continued regulation of an independent regulatory body and not placed in the hands of an executive agency political appointee.

The Senate also balked at the administration's proposal to give the energy secretary power to regulate both oil and natural gas prices. It voted instead to place the authority under a three-member board within the new department.

However, the Senate-passed bill would give the energy secretary the authority to propose new rates to this board and would give the President the power to veto its decisions.

Under the Moss proposal, the president would not have this veto power.

Rep. Waldo Bennett Rose, R-64 Lima, let go with a scathing attack, calling drunk driving "the single, most dangerous crime of violence in this state."

He called it "a uniquely middle class crime" and noted the legislature does not intend to offer leniency for crimes involving poorer citizens, such as theft and burglary.

Pottenger's bill also allows judges to bypass the existing 30-day suspension of driving privileges, and instead lets them to grant limited driving rights to and from the educational program or one's place of employment.

Defending his measure, the Cincinnati attorney and former Hamilton County judge stressed that jurists will retain the right to impose the jail sentence, and that in no case does it affect repeat offenders.

The 56-year-old Pottenger said his law partners in Cincinnati handle a great number of bankruptcy cases, and that he has seen instances where the financial implications of a single drunk driving conviction "can push a guy over the line."

He noted that a fine up to $1,000 is possible under present law, and that the offender could lose his job because of having to stay in jail for three days. Additionally, he said a conviction automatically puts him into the costly high risk category for liability insurance.

Rep. Alan E. Morris, R-27 Westerville, whose hometown claims to be the birthplace of prohibition and whose opposition to any liberalization of liquor laws is expected, predicted further loosening of the statutes.

"Implied consent will be next," he said, referring to another 1968 law that brings on automatic licenses suspension for refusal to take a sobriety test. The implied consent law gets its name from language under which an applicant is construed to have given his implied consent when he signs the application for a license to operate a motor vehicle.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials climbed nearly 2 points in early trading.

Gainers outpaced losers by close to a 2-1 margin among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Analysts said traders had been encouraged by the market's ability this week to halt its late-May slide and climb back above the 900 level in the Dow.

Today's early prices included Holiday Inns, off 1/8 at 127 1/8; United Technologies, up 1/4 at 38 1/8; Westinghouse Electric, up 1/8 at 20 3/8; and Exxon, 1/8 lower at 51 1/4.

On Wednesday the Dow Jones industrial average posted a 7.89 advance to 906.55.

Gainers outnumbered losers by better than a 2-1 spread on the NYSE.

Big Board volume came to 18.32 million shares, against 17.80 million on Tuesday.

The NYSE's composite index rose .41 to 52.97.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up .13 at 112.31.

Fire suits envisioned in Kentucky

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Any legal action in connection with the Beverly Hills Supper Club fire in northern Kentucky probably will occur after an official investigation is completed, says an assistant state attorney general.

The outcome of the investigation will determine whether state officials ask local authorities to prosecute the owners of the club in which 161 died. Asst. Atty. Gen. Victor Fox said Wednesday.

And victims' relatives who may seek civil damages will depend on the results to try to probe negligence on the part of the owners, Richard Schilling and three sons, Fox said.

Gov. — Julian Carroll's press secretary, John Nichols, has said it will take a week or more to complete the investigation being conducted by state police and the state fire marshal's office under the supervision of Carroll aide Jack Hall.

State Police Commissioner Kenneth Brandenburg has said a formal report on the cause of the fire and possible fire code violations will come "no sooner than three weeks."

If the probe revealed evidence of criminal negligence on the part of the club owners, the Campbell County commonwealth's attorney would be asked to prosecute, Fox said.

Campbell Circuit Court would have jurisdiction over civil suits by victims' relatives seeking damages from the club, though relatives of out-of-state victims might file suit in U.S. District Court in Covington, he said.

Johnny Carson returns to show

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Johnny Carson returns to "The Tonight Show" next Tuesday after taking two weeks off to recover from a recurrence of an old injury and one week for a vacation.

Carson got a pinched nerve in his neck several years ago when he fell off an exercise board at his home.

Carson had scheduled a vacation the week of May 30, but remained at home to recuperate.

Buddy Hackett suffers fall injury

CAMARILLO, Calif. (AP) — Comedian Buddy Hackett is recuperating in Pleasant Valley Hospital after breaking two ribs in a fall from a director's chair on a movie set.

"I was wrestling with a bear," Hackett quipped Wednesday. "It's the silliest thing in the world. Luckily I was agile enough to twist around and fall on my side when the chair tipped over. I knew I was going to fall on my spine if I didn't do something."

The incident occurred Monday on the set of "Coming Attractions," being filmed at the historic hacienda of Don Adolfo Camarillo, now called the Augustinian Home. Camarillo founded this city 50 miles up the coast from Los Angeles.

Hackett, expected to spend a week in the hospital, was reported giving skiing tips to the nurses.

Blinker lights measure studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Drivers of motor vehicles equipped with blinker lights would have to have them on while stopped on Ohio's highways under a bill now halfway through the legislature.

The House approved it 97-1 Wednesday at the urging of Rep. John E. Johnson, D-68 Orrville. He said the bill is identical to a similar safety measure already enacted in neighboring Pennsylvania. Johnson's bill was sent to the Senate.

Signed graphics enjoying sales explosion

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The newest speculation in the financial district here is not even a security. It is signed graphics, sometimes sold sight unseen, the attraction being mercenary rather than aesthetic.

Moving into the field are salesmen whose chief interest heretofore was commodities, such as wheat and silver and maybe even hog bellies. In art they foresee large profits, primarily by selling to business executives.

Answering an unsolicited telephone call, a businessman is told "We are in the position of being able to supply you with signed graphics from some of the best known artists of today, such as Dali, Picasso, Chagall, Miro."

He is further informed that "Since the value of these prints has consistently gone up it is important that you be in a position to move quickly."

Then the blunt question is put: "Could you, if our literature meets with your approval, write a check for $4,000, our minimum order?" The words are from the approach of one company.

Some businessmen understandably are reluctant to say yes, but some do. "Judging from the purchase orders I have seen," said a midtown art dealer, "they could be too successful." He fears a speculative boom — and collapse.

While only a few companies are involved in the trade so far, some salesmen have ideas of branching out on their own, and claim there may be as many as 40 to 50 such firms by summertime.

Evidence so far, however, suggests the art entrepreneurs might be having a more difficult time of it.

One individual who sought an arrangement with a source of art prints, writing on the stationery of one of the largest, most prestigious investment firms in the world, later denied he had even considered the business.

"In no way at all is it the business of this firm," he said. "And personally," he added, "I am involved in no way at all." Then he demanded: "Where did you get my name?"

Asked if his business was a success, Charles Lombardo, president of Wall Street Graphic Art Corp., one of the first in the telephone business, and he claims, the employer of a dozen salespeople ("they come and go"), said: "It's too soon to be sure."

Lombardo said he was putting his efforts "on the back burner" while he devised "new procedures, a new catalog." He said it would take six months more for him to answer the question.

Wall Street Graphic Art has offered various portfolios of signed prints at what are claimed to be large discounts from "uptown" prices. One grouping, for example, includes a Picasso or Chagall, plus a Miro, Dali, Calder, Marini, Baskin and Belmer for $10,000. The retail price is said to be $12,200.

Why should businessmen want such hand-signed works? Because, relates a Wall Street Graphic Art "insider report," there is "a break out toward much higher prices for original signed and numbered graphics..."

Therefore, "The demand for fine art is ... increasing exponentially while the supply of such art increases linearly; hence, the supply will not keep up with the demand at current prices."

Under a heading, "Positions to be taken in the following artists immediately," are listed Alexander Calder, Salvador Dali and Joan Miro. Calder, it is noted, died last November, Dali is 73 and Miro 84.

"Conclusion: Prices paid for original signed and numbered graphics by famous artists have the potential to double in the next 9 months to 2 years. Immediate positions should be instituted..."

Connoisseurs cringe at the word "position." They might tolerate "investment," because that could denote aesthetic as well as pecuniary motives. But they dislike the notion that art should be sold like commodity futures.

"If these Wall Street firms are successful, and if they are misleading in their claims, the entire fine arts market place could be adversely affected," said Bruce Whyte, president of Original Print Collectors Group.

"Don't buy any works of art sight unseen," Whyte advises. And if you do buy to resell, "Don't forget to figure in seller's commissions, which could range from 10 per cent to 40 per cent."

Many Kahn says exercise is important for diet

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

After 35 years of teaching physical fitness Manya Kahn of New York is convinced she always has been on the right track — many of her long-time students are now in their 70s, she says and they look far younger than their age.

Exercise is indispensable to the dieter as well as to the person who just wants to keep fit. Many women go to weight-reducing places, but when they lose 30 or so pounds their skin hangs loosely on their bodies. Only by exercising as you diet can you keep your skin looking well. It adjusts as you exercise," she explained in an interview in her salon.

A former professional dancer — she began to study ballet at 5 — Mrs. Kahn has weathered the years well. Her exercises concentrate on the spinal column. Correct posture can keep one looking young into old age and avoid "bad back roundness."

The exercises are based on stretch routines coordinated with deep breathing and a relaxed body, movements that she used in teaching ballet classes even as a teen-ager. She doesn't approve of "jerky movements," taught by many salons. Her own carpeted salon in an East Side town house is quiet with little hint that women are on massage tables, slant boards, and in classes and private sessions where they are doing rhythmic

Miss Schaeper, Alan Bruce Levy plan wedding for June 26

Mr. and Mrs. Mark J. Schaeper announce the engagement of their daughter, Tamara Jean, to Mr. Alan Bruce Levy, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Levy of Louisville, Kentucky.

Miss Schaeper received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Education cum laude, and a Master's Degree from Miami University at Oxford Ohio. She was a member of Delta Delta Delta social sorority and Kappa Delta Honorary Education Sorority. While a graduate student, she was a member of the Graduate Student Assembly Governing Body. She is a teacher in the Indian Hill School District in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mr. Levy, who also attended Miami

University was a member of Sigma Alpha Mu social fraternity of which he is the founder of the alumni chapter. He was also on the Student Body Government Board, a member of Omicron Delta Kappa Men's Leadership fraternity, Phi Kappa Phi and Phi Sigma Honorary. He is presently a medical student at the University of Louisville, Louisville, Kentucky where he is affiliated with Phi Delta Epsilon Medical Fraternity.

Miss Schaeper is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. King of this city and Mrs. Leo J. Schaeper of Delaware. Mr. Levy's grandmother is Mrs. Victor Levy of Louisville.

The wedding will be an event of Sunday afternoon, June 26.

Two good for one ear

DOUBLY FASHIONABLE — The twice-pierced, a new fashion trend, takes to many clever pair-ups, including this diamond pave star worn with a gold crescent moon that cradles a single tiny diamond of its own. Other charming combinations are a little gold heart with an enamel and stone-centered flower; miniature playing card suits, such as a gold spade with a silver club; or simple geometrics, such as a diamond disc combined with an onyx triangle or a diamond stud with a hoop.

BODY RHYTHMS—An exercise from Manya Kahn's book is this torso stretch: (A) breathe in and raise arms; (B) breathe out, swaying torso back, bouncing back and forth three times, stretching from thighs; (C) breathe in as hands are clasped behind, bring torso back to upright position; (D) breath out, bend torso forward and down with hands and arms stretching way up behind you; (E) bounce three times from hip joints. Return to starting position. Relax. Repeat five times.

exercises. It seems effortless and that's the whole point, she explained.

"It is one reason I have put it all in a book," she said of her newly-published "Body Rhythms: A New Approach to Exercise." The exercises can be done effortlessly at home as well. The book, with its divisions into basic elementary intermediate and advanced exercises, provides a chart for observing one's progress. A 10-day program also includes a diet.

Her body rhythm movements follow the growth of a child from babyhood and are done in five positions — lying down, sitting, half-reclining, kneeling and standing — a system that she believes retrains strengthens and reshapes the body.

In the '40s, Mrs. Kahn had studied physical therapy, working in hospitals where she was fascinated with the study of the anatomy as she learned about natural healing methods about natural healing methods, corrective diets, hydrotherapy, passive exercises and systems of face and body massage.

"The lower back is a major tension area because we do not use that part of our body very much," she said. "When tension develops in that region it becomes worse unless we do something about it."

Her exercises geared to this problem include those which can be done on a slant board or on a mat two or three inches thick.

Here is a basic one, a full body stretch: Lie flat with lower back touching mat or board, knees straight, arms at side, toes pointed. Flex both feet, bringing toes toward you, pushing heels out to straighten knees. Breathe in while arms are stretched out sideways, then back, stretching elbows and fingers at the same time. Hold for one second. Breathe out while returning slowly to starting position. Relax.

Wedding brought reprieve from fire

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP) — College sentiment, or just plain luck. To Deane Hamlet, it was a miracle.

It happened like this: Mrs. Hamlet's husband John, their son and daughter-in-law had planned a belated Mother's Day celebration for her last Saturday night at the Beverly Hills Supper Club in Southgate, Ky.

They were sitting in the Garden Dining Room at the plush club, near a window and Mrs. Hamlet noticed a bridal party just outside.

She says she was moved by the sight of that "joyous occasion" and talked her husband and the others into staying in the Garden Dining area instead of going then to the Cabaret Room, where singer John Davidson was to perform.

Mrs. Hamlet says she believes that decision saved their lives.

"We were seated in the Garden Dining Room, and we looked out onto the garden and saw decorations for a wedding," Mrs. Hamlet said in an interview here Wednesday. "We ate our dinner and I said I wanted to stay there so we could see the bride when she came out."

"We could have gone in the Cabaret Room then a little after 6 p.m., but we wanted to see the wedding party. If we had gone in, we would have gotten good seats in the Cabaret Room and there's no way we could have gotten out."

As it turned out, they entered the room late and found seats near an exit.

A short time after they took their seats, disaster struck. A busboy walked to the stage, took a microphone from two comedians and announced that the club was on fire.

The Hamlets left immediately but the fire killed 161 persons and injured more than 100.

"By staying to see the bride and the bridesmaids walk along right beside the window we were near we didn't get good seats in the Cabaret Room," Mrs. Hamlet said. "We saw the boy come up and grab the microphone, and then we left."

As they left she said, a comedian commented that "when the fire is out we will have everyone back in and continue with the show."

"But we knew there wouldn't be any show before we got out," she said. "You couldn't believe how fast the blacksmoke spread. We were some of the very first to get out. My husband had hold of both my shoulders and the four of us stayed together."

"Mrs. Hamlet said they "thought it was just a precautionary thing," when they were told to evacuate the building, "like a school fire drill."

"But we weren't outside more than half a minute and we knew it was no drill," she said.

New Jaycee officers assume duties at chapter meeting

New officers for the Washington C.H. Jaycee chapter officially took over their duties at the regular meeting held Wednesday night.

Clem Edwards received the president's gavel from James Irons who served in the post during the past year.

New members of the board of directors are Dennis Cotner, internal vice president; David DaRif, external vice president; Gary Johnson, secretary; Joe Burbage, treasurer; Larry Crueta, public relations officer; Ernie Wilson, state director, and Leroy Farris and Randy Roush, directors.

Cotner, Chairman of the Jaycee spring dance, presented a progress report on the event. The dance will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. June 4 in the Mahan Building featuring music by the "Long Island" band. Tickets priced at $7 per couple can be purchased by calling Cotner at 335-2105 or Wilson at 426-6108.

A report on the Hoxie Brothers

Circus being sponsored by the Jaycees was presented by Irons. He said advance tickets priced at $2.75 for adults and $1.75 for children can be purchased from Edwards at 335-2351 Irons at 335-1778 or John Gault at 335-7729. Two shows will be presented. The shows are scheduled at 2 and 4 p.m. Sunday, June 12 on the Eastside Elementary School grounds on S. Elm Street.

Dale Butler reported that various committee chairmen have been selected for the annual July 4 celebration sponsored by the Jaycees. The chairmen are Mike McCormick, parade; Gary Johnson, announcing booth; Randy Roush, Little Miss Firecracker contest; Bill Rodgers, teen dance; Ernie Wilson, fireworks; Jaycettes, concession stand; Clem Edwards, race track games, and Bob Caughron and John Gault, frog jump.

Other reports were presented on the paper drive, junior champ track meet and the local officers workshop at Denison University on June 11-12.

Council to sell windows

MILLEDGEVILLE — Milledgeville village council members Wednesday night authorized the removal of stained glass windows that remain in the former United Methodist Church building.

The council will advertise for the sale of the windows in a trade magazine and purchase materials to replace them.

The former church building has been converted into a town hall and community center.

Permission was also granted to purchase a pump for the basement of the town hall building.

In other matters, Mayor Ronald Anderson will be contacting Jasper Township trustees concerning the repair of chuckholes in Milledgeville streets. If the trustees are unable to complete the project, the mayor was given permission to hire two persons at $2.50 per hour for the work.

The village will be fogging for mosquitoes Tuesday and Thursday, weather permitting, and a special meeting has been scheduled for 7:30 p.m. June 22 to prepare the 1978 budget request.

Grain-handler licensing eyed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Handlers, samplers and weighers of agricultural commodities such as grain would be licensed by the agriculture department under legislation approved 82-17 by the House on Wednesday.

The department would issue the certification after having seen evidence that prescribed courses have been completed, and in the case of handlers, a determination was made that the person was familiar with federal rules and regulations.

Rep. Dale Locker, D-80 Anna, introduced the bill at the request of farm and grain organizations, and the department said it was neutral on the legislation.

Royal P. Cox, a department spokesman, said he felt the bill, which now goes to the Senate, will have little effect "dollar wise or market wise." He said the department hopes the program will be laid out so that it can be administered effectively.

Grain movement report is given

A report on grain movement was presented at the regular meeting of the Fayette County National Farmers Organization (NFO) chapter Wednesday night in Staunton Fellowship Hall.

William Burr, Columbus marketing area representative, reported that the NFO is barging large volumes of grain for export purposes. Barges were recently loaded with NFO corn for export as part of the organization drive to move grain from the U.S. so it can no longer be counted as surplus.

Burr said the NFO plans to continue loading grain on each of the 19 points on the Mississippi River system for exporting.

It was also reported that negotiations are currently being conducted between hog producers and processors to achieve cost production contracts.

DIGNIFIED DOERS 4-H

The meeting of the Dignified Doers 4-H Club was brought to order by Cindy Dennis, and Jodene Longberry led the pledges. Roll call was answered by a good safety habit around the home. Christian Taylor read the minutes of the previous meeting, and Lora Hooks gave the treasury's report.

The health reports made were entitled "Exercise Man's Best Medicine" and "Food Poisoning is no Fun."

The mother-daughter tea is planned for July 11. The girls discussed some of their activities planned for the summer. Mrs. Wright gave assignments to the group. Sheila Carroll motioned for adjournment, and Luann Shaffer seconded the motion.

Demonstrations made were "Making a Dart" by Marilyn Langley and "Better Breakfast" by Luann Shaffer. The next meeting is planned for June 8.

BROWNIE TROOP 877

Girls in Brownie Troop 877 of Milledgeville met on Wednesday for the last meeting of the school year, but they will meet every two or three weeks during the summer months at the home of their leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Stevens. They will work on projects for the Fayette County Fair in July and for Day Camp in July. They are also planning a trip to the Columbus Zoo, where the girls support a seal, and an additional field trip.

The troop began the first of the school year with five girls, now there are 13 girls. The assistant leaders are Mr. and Mrs. Dick Coates and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Everhart. The troop had perfect attendance for the first six months of meetings, and the girls learned new songs, stories, and made many crafts for the Fayette County Fair. They also made an angel and candy bowl for Christmas gifts. The 13 girls sold 80 calendars, more than any other troop in the county, and 472 boxes of Girls Scout cookies.

Two girls will "fly-up" the the Junior level. It is planned to start a Junior troop in Milledgeville this fall.

Girl Scout is fun! It's like having 13 daughters for one hour a week!

Heavy rain hits coast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy thunderstorm activity continued overnight over the Atlantic coast region. Rain drenched Miami International Airport in Florida for a 12-hour total of over 6½ inches.

There was thunderstorm activity this morning in western Oklahoma and the northeastern part of the Texas panhandle. Other thunderstorms persisted in southern Missouri and from west central Illinois to southern Indiana and western Kentucky.

There were severe thunderstorms in south central Kansas. Large hail fell 10 miles east of Pratt and high winds damaged power lines at Kingman, Kan.

Shower and thunderstorm activity in the northern and central Rockies and northern plateau diminished and were widely scattered. A mid-afternoon tornado reportedly ripped the roof from a gymnasium at Cut Bank, Mont. Some showers lingered in western Washington and northeast Michigan.

The desert Southwest cooled into the upper 80s overnight. Wednesday's heat had sent the mercury to 110 degrees in several places.

Skies were clear over most of the Dakotas, Nebraska and the upper Mississippi Valley region.

Of ancestor in Virginia

Hidy descendants attend grave dedication

Descendants of the Hidy family from Fayette County traveled over the Memorial Day weekend to Highland County, Virginia, known as "Little Switzerland", to honor their first ancestor in America.

He was Johann Heinrich Heyde (later known as John Hidy), who is buried in the Hidy cemetery on the first Hidy homestead in the United States. The site of the farm and cemetery is located about three miles north of the town of Blue Grass on Rt. 640.

Johann Heyde was born in 1751 in Germany, the son of Heinrich Sigismund Heyde, a German army officer, who was known as the Hero of Colberg, in the Seven Years Wars, fought between 1756 and 1763. The father Heinrich was mentioned extensively by Thomas Carlyle, the great English author, in his "History of Frederick the Great". General German Biography, volume XII, pp. 346-347, says he was born at Shakesdorf-Niederlausitz in 1703 and died May 4, 1765. In 1718 he joined the infantry. Because of wounds incurred he was transferred to a garrison in 1747.

Just the same even here Heinrich had the opportunity to gain military distinction taking part three times in the defense of the city of Colberg. After his first victory against a much superior force of the enemy, October 1758, he was ascended from major to colonel, also receiving the order "pour le merite" and being highly mentioned with honoring words by the King

Frederick the Great in his war Despatch (Volume IV, p. 219). Also after a second marvelous defense (Aug. 26 to Sept. 18, 1760) the king honored him with a special order (Volume V, p. 79), but the hero was even more honored by receiving a gold medal dated March 22, 1761, which bore an unfortunately poor likeness of Heyde himself, and the significant inscription, "Colbergae Defender". The king sent him this together with 20 reproductions in silver to keep alive the memory of the repeated victorious defense, even unto the youngest generation.

During the third and just as honorable defense (Sept. 3 to Dec. 16, 1761) there being no hope of relief against the overwhelming enemy force, he was obliged to capitulate, mainly due to hunger, and was imprisoned in Russia. Heyde, who died at Colberg, was buried there by Marienkirche, the monument of Frederick the Great. On the east side of the monument is a statue of Heyde.

While in prison Heinrich Heyde wrote this letter to his son, Johann, "Dear Son, Germany has been a battlefield for centuries in wars that settle nothing. I can see no end to it. The next war will be hard fought, and unless you wish to die on these battlefields, go to America and start a new life." On Oct. 7, 1765, Johann arrived in Philadelphia on a small ship, the "Countess of Sussex". Thomas Gray, captain, from Rotterdam Holland, with fifty passengers abroad, ship list No. 252.

In 1775 in Philadelphia, he was drafted to fight in the Revolutionary War. He was taken to Valley Forge where he met General Von Steuben, who had trained him in Germany. He was assigned to duty as assistant drill master and remained at Valley Forge for the duration of the war.

His superior was Capt. Peter Trexler at Valley Forge. His home was in walking distance from Valley Forge to Bryn-Mawr, Pennsylvania. After a time Trexler frequently invited Hidy to his home on weekends. Hidy later married Trexler's daughter, Christina ATTEND SERVICE — Those descendants of John Hidy who attended Memorial Day services for the dedication of a marker for his grave in Highland County, Virginia, were, front row, Mrs. Marvin (Esther Hidy) Stockwell; second row, Glenn Hidy, Gary Hidy and Hugh Gwin, president of the George Washington Cleek Creek Chapter, and third row, Wayne Hidy and James Eldon Hidy.

Ann Albright Trexler. Capt. Peter Trexler was living in the home of Charles Thomson (who was Secretary of the Continental Congress) while the British occupied Philadelphia. Trexler died in 1784 and by 1789 Hidy was moving to Highland County, Virginia. He died at his home in Blue Grass in 1823 and is buried on his land in an unmarked grave. At that time some of the soldiers did not want their graves marked for fear of vandals.

John and Christina Trexler Hidy had 10 children, four of whom moved to Fayette County, Ohio, in the early 1800s and settled here. They were Joseph Hidy, Margaret Hidy Kious, John Hidy, and George Hidy. All of the Hydys now residing in Fayette County are descendants of the original settlers.

The marking of the grave of John Hidy in Blue Grass, Virginia, has been a dream of Albert Hidy, Sr., of Concord, Calif., for many years. The project was sponsored by the George Washington Cleek Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, Warm Springs, Va. Those who traveled to Virginia from this area for the special ceremony on Memorial Day were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hidy, Bloomingburg, (fifth generation), Mr. James Eldon Hidy, Grove City, (sixth generation), Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hidy, Bloomingburg, (sixth generation) and daughter, Wendy, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hidy, Bloomingburg, (sixth generation) and children Julia, Ivan, and Aaron, and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Stockwell (Esther Hidy), Jeffersonville (sixth generation), and their grandson, Jeffrey Cooper, of Louisville, Ky., (eighth generation).

Many local descendants contributed financially to the purchase of the marker, including the William Horney Chapter of which 12 present members are John Hidy descendants.

Hugh Gwin, president of the George Washington Cleek chapter, conducted the dedication. He opened the service with explanatory remarks, read some selected scripture including Joshua Chapter 4. He then led the group in a responsive reading. The marker was unveiled by Glenn Hidy and his sons, Wayne, Gary, and James Eldon. The wreath from the Cass Hidy family was placed by Nancy Joyce Hidy. Mr. Gwin led the group in singing "My Country 'Tis of Thee" and closed with a benediction prayer.

Showers may help farmers in fields

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Here is the agriculture weather advisory for Ohio provided by the National Weather Service:

Some showers were possible today, especially in the north and east, but by this evening, cooler, dryer air will be flowing into Ohio. A high pressure system centered in south central Canada pushes southeastward.

Temperatures will remain like spring through the weekend. Surface winds will remain gusty, finally dying down this evening.

Field Operations — Evaporation rates will slow slightly, but will still average near 15 hundredths of an inch today and Friday. Limited delays in field work was experienced in central sections of the state, but activity will be returning to normal today. Although rainfall amounts were not near enough to ease plant stress completely, the cooler temperatures will at least provide some temporary relief.

Haying — Hay harvesting conditions will be fair today as some showers are possible in northern and eastern sections of the state. Cutting and curing conditions will continue slow to moderate as temperatures will remain cooler and dew amounts will be moderate to heavy for the remainder of the week. The next chance for showers will come late in the weekend.

Spraying — Surface winds will most likely remain above threshold limits for drift and uniform coverage today.

Winds will become lighter in the evening hours and should remain acceptable for spraying through early in the weekend.

Most loose dogs not stray animals, veterinary study shows

By ROBERTE E. MILLER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Chances are the dog that littered your lawn, kept you awake, or damaged your property wasn't a stray, but the pet of a negligent owner.

That word comes from the Ohio Veterinary Medical Association (OVMA), which cites three Ohio studies and two national investigations into increasing problems caused by animals on the loose.

"The finger points directly to the irresponsible pet owner," the OVMA said last week in a report distributed to the legislature and news media.

Already under House committee consideration is a bill by Rep. John H. Kellogg, R-70 Orwell, under which dog wardens and others chasing unlicensed animals could get an assist from the public.

In addition to hiking penalties for allowing pets to run loose, Kellogg's bill beefs up the amount a citizen may collect from the owner after making a "citizen's arrest" of the offending animal, and posting its description in at least three public places.

Kellogg takes from the old law a 25-cent bounty, and raises it to $5, in the case of a dog. Cats are not mentioned in the bill, nor in the applicable section of existing law. Unclaimed animals, after 10 days, are turned over to the county for sale at auction.

Penalties for allowing horses, mules, cattle, sheep, goats, swine, dogs, or geese to run at large would become up to 30 days in jail and a $250 fine, instead of the present 10 days and $25.

The OVMA said in its report that the major problem is with "owned pets—not strays. The great bulk of cats and dogs received by shelters are adult animals, voluntarily surrendered by their owners...Owned pets are responsible for the vast majority of dog bites." This evidence, it said, "is overwhelmingly conclusive."

The OVMA called for compulsory licensing of dogs and cats or compulsory permits for owners, tougher penalties that escalate with repeat violations, and lower cost licenses and fees for owners of neutered pets.

"It is the freedom from having to bear more of the true cost that has made irresponsible pet ownership so easy and commonplace," the veterinarians' group said.

In the report entitled "Uncontrolled and Unwanted Pets—A Major Public Problem," the OVMA said Americans are divided "into two warring camps:

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Moped riders would have to be at least 14 and licensed to operate their motorized bicycles in Ohio, under legislation headed for House consideration with strong Senate backing.

safety measure, applying to motorbikes, or mopeds, that do not exceed 20 miles per hour.

The legislation "would create a "motorized bicycle license," costing $2, and required of any moped operator who did not have a regular driver's license.

Low pressure over Quebec pulled cool air across the Great Lakes and the Ohio Valley, bringing the possibility of showers to Ohio.

Temperatures will level off in the 60s in most sections of the state. Along the Ohio River in southern Ohio readings may reach the low 70s.

The low pressure area is moving northeast and high pressure from central Canada will build over the Great Lakes through Friday. Clouds will diminish tonight and temperatures will dip into the 40s across the state.

Temperatures will ease upward Friday with the approach of the high bringing more sunshine to most sections.

There were a few light showers in Ohio overnight along with variably cloudy skies and early morning lows in the 50s.

Ohio extended outlook, Saturday through Monday: fair Saturday and a chance of showers Sunday and Monday. Lows in the 50s Saturday and mid 50s to mid 60s Sunday and Monday.

Food prices rise nationwide

By LOUISE COOK

Associated Press Writer

Higher prices for a wide variety of items pushed up the family grocery bill last month, forcing consumers to search harder than ever for bargains, an Associated Press marketbasket survey shows.

The survey showed that most of the increases affected food rather than nonfood products. Coffee prices continued to soar. Recent cuts by roasters did not affect the supermarket shopper since the retail prices consistently had remained below wholesale levels.

The AP drew up a random list of 15 commonly purchased food and nonfood items, checked the price at one supermarket in each of 13 cities on March 1, 1973 and has rechecked on or about the start of each succeeding month.

The latest survey showed the marketbasket total at the checklist store increased during May in 12 cities, up an average of 3.5 per cent. It declined in only one place — Salt Lake City, where the bill at the checklist store dropped 1.9 per cent.

On an overall basis, the marketbasket bill at the checklist stores increased just over 3 per cent in May, compared to an average boost of 1.4 per cent during April.

Nonfoods represented 20 per cent of the items surveyed; they represented only 16 per cent of the increases. The most frequent food increases came in the price of pork chops, coffee and frankfurters.

To some degree, the increases reflect higher prices paid to farmers for their products. The Agriculture Department said Tuesday that farm prices went up 2 per cent from April 15 to May 15, the sixth straight monthly boost.

In many cases, however, the price paid to the farmer represents only a small fraction of the cost paid by the consumer. The rest of the money goes for such items as packaging, processing, transportation, labor and overhead, all of which have risen steadily.

Comparing prices at the start of June with those six months earlier, The AP found the marketbasket bill had increased at the checklist store in every city, up an average of 9 per cent. Much of the boost was due to the rising price of coffee which is averaging about $3.79 a pound at the checklist stores in the survey cities. When coffee was removed from the totals, the marketbasket bill at the checklist store showed an increase of an average of only 1.5 per cent in six months.

One of the few bright spots during the first half of the year has been a steady decline in the price of eggs. The government said the prices paid to farmers for eggs and poultry dropped 5 per cent in the month ended May 15 and were 6 per cent lower than they were a year earlier. The AP survey showed the price of eggs dropped at the checklist store in eight cities during May.

The items on the AP checklist were: chopped chuck, center cut pork chops, frozen orange juice concentrate, coffee, paper towels, butter, Grade-A medium white eggs, creamy peanut butter, laundry detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce, chocolate chip cookies, milk, frankfurters and granulated sugar.

The cities checked were: Albuquerque, N.M., Atlanta, Ga., Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, Philadelphia, Providence, Salt Lake City and Seattle.

Conferees can't agree

PARIS (AP) — The 27-nation conference on international economic cooperation argued all night but failed to agree on a permanent organization for energy negotiations demanded by the industrial nations in the hope of keeping oil prices down.

A Canadian spokesman said Saudi Arabia and Iran agreed to the continuing energy dialogue. But other sources said Algeria, Iraq and Venezuela took a hard line and refused.

British Foreign Secretary David Owen said an attempt would be made to draft a final communique covering the "considerable" areas of agreement on special aid to the poorest nations and a so-called Common Fund to stabilize prices of primary raw materials.

However, Owen said he was not optimistic this could be done.

"The main message is one of disappointment," he said.

Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance left the conference early and put Undersecretary Richard Cooper in charge of the American delegation.

Vance told newsmen upon his return to Washington today that the results of the conference had been mixed.

He counted as "a certain disappointment" the conference failure to reach agreement on energy.

House eyes energy agency

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House is ready to join the Senate in creating a new energy department, with the White House waging a last-minute battle against a proposal to deny the agency's secretary power over natural gas prices.

The House scheduled debate today on the energy reorganization bill, which would meet a request from President Carter for a new Cabinet agency to administer a national energy policy.

While passage of the measure seems assured, a major fight is developing over a provision giving the new energy secretary, expected to be presidential energy adviser James R. Schlesinger, authority to set both natural gas and oil prices.

House Republicans are rallying behind an amendment by Rep. John Moss, D-Calif., to give gas price-setting powers to a five-member independent Energy Regulatory Commission.

The administration is opposed to the Moss amendment and has been lobbying key House Democrats in an effort to defeat it.

Meanwhile, a House Commerce subcommittee was expected to begin consideration today of possible amendments to non-tax aspects of the President's energy program, the energy policy that the new department would administer.

The subcommittee completed several weeks of hearings on the legislation on Wednesday.

First on the subcommittee's agenda as it begins voting is the President's proposal to require utilities to have programs for insulating homes of customers who request such services.

The President also called for tax credits of up to $412 for home, insulation, but that part of the legislation is, before the House Ways and Means Committee.

One issue in the energy reorganization bill, authority over the price of natural gas shipped in interstate commerce, is regulated by the Federal Power Commission. The FPC, along with the Federal Energy Administration and the Energy Research and Development Administration, would be abolished under the bill.

Moss does not dispute the proposal to give the new energy secretary the power to regulate oil prices, since the power already is exercised by an executive agency, the FEA.

Preview of suicide sent to friends

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — It was no ordinary suicide.

On April 1, Edward Nylander sent 10 friends a photograph of himself. Ten days later, his charred body was found in a cave next to a can of gasoline, in a yoga position with a skull in his lap — just as he had posed for the photo.

He had also sent the friends a meticulously printed letter, detailing how they could contact him after his death.

Nylander was 29, the son of a retired Air Force sergeant. He was a graduate of Oberlin College in Ohio, an Optimist International Youth Award winner, a factory worker, a pinball freak, a student of Eastern philosophies and a self-styled guru.

He was also a suicide, the county coroner said.

He had revealed an intention to kill himself to a close friend.

"When I asked what form he was coming back in, he just smiled," the friend said.

He had also hinted at it in a letter to his parents.

"I felt strange after reading the letter, but I hoped my feelings weren't based on anything," said his father, George Nylander.

Perhaps the best clue to Nylander's suicide, and to how he felt about it, was in the letter he sent to the 10 friends.

"Herein are contained the essential life and teachings of your friend Edward Nylander," he wrote. "The first basic recognition about the cycle of birth and death, indeed the nature of all worlds, is their illusory, dream essence."

But the suicide is still a mystery.

When Edward Nylander came to Boulder in the summer of 1974, he brought a wife and a mission — to continue his spiritual pursuits, to teach his own method of self-realization.

He had graduated from Oberlin in 1971, a six-month journey in Europe with an ascetic sage already behind him. After graduation he stayed at Oberlin, teaching yoga for the college's physical education department.

He was, said friends, something of a guru in Ohio. His wife had been one of his students.

Actress, spouse in Irish visit

PORT WASHINGTON, N.Y. (AP) — Actress Maureen O'Hara and her husband, Charles Blair, took a sentimental journey to Ireland over a route he took 37 years ago in a nonstop transatlantic seaplane flight.

The 22-hour flight in a vintage amphibian aircraft began Wednesday afternoon from Manhasset Bay on Long Island's north shore. A two-hour refueling stop was scheduled in Newfoundland.

Also aboard the flight was J.C. Kelly Rogers, who was Winston Churchill's Royal Air Force pilot.

F. Scott McBride, one-time head of the American Anti-Saloon League, was born in Carroll County. —AP

County's Athlete-Scholar-Leader to be named Monday

Eight nominated for Christman

The 1976-77 school year is drawing to a close and high school athletes are turning their minds to summer sports. For the most part, the 1977 graduates have put on their high school uniforms for the final time.

For the ninth consecutive year, the Clarence A. Christman, Jr. Athlete-Scholar-Leader Award will be awarded this year.

The coveted award is given to the most outstanding athlete-scholar-leader in Fayette County. This year, eight seniors have been nominated by area coaches for the honor.

In addition, a new wrinkle has been added so that girls are also included in the competition.

The winner will be announced Monday at the Washington C.H. Kiwanis Club dinner meeting at the Terrace Lounge. This year's candidates and their nominating coaches will be honored guests of the Kiwanis Club.

The club annually cooperates with the Record-Herald in the sponsorship of the awards program.

The Christman Award winner was selected last month by a standing seven-man panel. The recipient will be the ninth winner of the award which was renamed six years ago in honor of the late Clarence A. Christman, Jr. In the first two years of presentation, the award was known as the Record-Herald Award.

Last year's winner, David Thompson will present the ebony plaque to this year's winner at Monday's banquet.

Background sketches, similar to those used by the panel to select the winner, follow:

JOE BLACK son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Black, 186 Hickory Lane, was nominated by Fred Zechman, head football coach at Miami Trace.

Black lettered in three varsity sports during his high school career. He earned two each in football, basketball and baseball.

Football was the sport that earned Black the most distinction. He was a second team, all-district choice this past season and he co-captained the Panthers' undefeated team.

He also earned first team, All-SCOL honors as a tight end and was selected as the county's outstanding National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Scholar-Athlete.

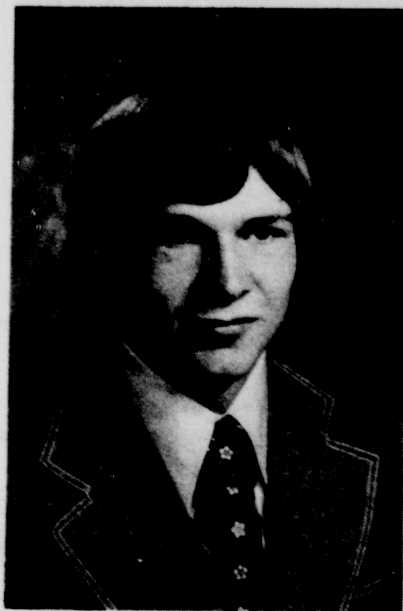

In football, he was on the receiving end of 20 passes last season for a total of 642 yards and six touchdowns.

This spring in baseball, Black earned first team, All-SCOL honors as a first baseman while wielding a hot bat. Black batted .610 in the league and never made an error at first base.

He has an accumulative grade point average of 3.49, ranking him 21st in his class of 238.

Black is a member of the Sugar Grove United Methodist Church, attended Buckeye Boy's State and is listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students.

He is a member of the Varsity M Club, National Honor Society, student council treasurer, senior class president, and has held a class office since becoming a freshman.

GAIL CAMSTRA, daughter of Lt. Col and Mrs. Frank Camstra of 10580 Pleasant View Road, Jamestown, was nominated by Suellen Radabaugh, girls' track coach at Miami Trace.

Miss Camstra earned a total of five varsity letters in three sports while at Miami Trace. She lettered once in basketball and twice each in volleyball and track.

This spring, she received the scholastic award given by the track team. She was a member of the mile relay team which captured a league win and seconds in each of the sectional and district meets in 1976.

This season, she was all-league once again with the relay team and added another trophy, becoming sectional champ in the discus with a toss of 92 feet, four inches, a Miami Trace school record.

In addition to that record, she is a co-holder of the mile relay and medley relay records at the school.

Miss Camstra maintains a 3.28 grade average, ranking her 31st of 238 graduates.

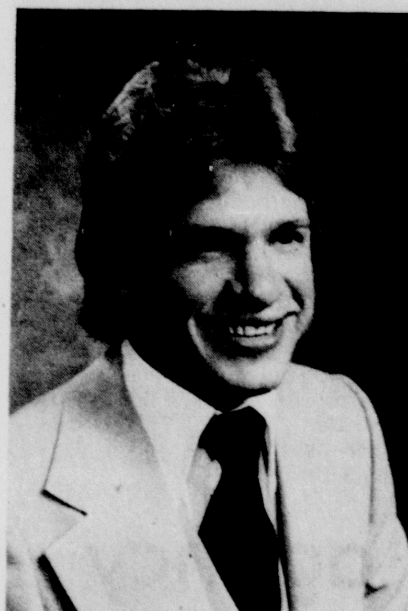

She is a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Washington C.H., the Varsity M Club, Future Nurses, the Science Club and the Rip-N-Stitch 4-H club.

"Gail has shown fine leadership qualities this season which have developed the younger girls attitudes as a winning squad; she has been an outstanding track girl in only two years," was Coach Radabaugh's comment.

BRANT DUNN, son of Mrs. Marilyn Dunn, SR 752-SW, was nominated by Mike Henry, Miami Trace baseball coach.

Dunn lettered in two sports while at Miami Trace, basketball and baseball. He received the scholastic award in basketball the past two seasons.

The 5-11, 140-pounder set a school record last season in the sectional playoffs with 15 assists in a single game. On the baseball diamond, he batted .285 playing the outfield for the SCOL champion Panthers.

Dunn ranks seventh in his class with a 3.81 accumulative grade point average.

He is a member of the Sugar Grove United Methodist Church, student council vice-president, SCOL Student Council President, a member of the Varsity M Club, chaplain of National Honor Society and was listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Coach Henry commented that, "Brant is a fine young man and was very important in our good baseball season."

DAN GIFFORD, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Gifford, Egypt Road, New Holland was nominated by Bill Beatty, track coach at Miami Trace and John Woolums, Miami Trace basketball coach.

Gifford is the third brother to be nominated for the award. His brother, Tom, won the award in 1970 and later his brother, Glenn, took the top honor in 1973.

Gifford won a total of eight varsity letters in his high school career in three different sports. He earned two letters in football and three each in basketball and track.

As a sophomore, he won all-league honorable mention selection and was named the team's best defensive player. Later, he moved to second team, All-SCOL in his junior year in addition to capturing the MVP and field goal shooting trophies.

Last season, he helped the Panthers to a district tourney berth becoming second team, all-league, second team, all-district, and honorable mention, All-Ohio. The co-captain was also selected as an alternate for the North-South All-Star Game.

In football, Gifford piled up yardage as a tailback and helped Trace to an undefeated season. He earned first team, all-league status and second team, all-district.

Gifford set the high jump record at 6-feet-8 last week at the state meet. This season, he is officially ranked fourth in the state in the event and is sectional champion.

He is 6-foot-2, 172 pounds and ranks 105th of 238 seniors in his class with a 2.51 accumulative grade point average.

He is a member of the Methodist Church, 4-H, the Varsity M Club, was listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students, and attended Buckeye Boys' State.

Coach Beatty commented, "With only three seniors on the 1977 track team, leadership was at a premium. Dan provided us with the leadership, through example, to lead us to whatever success we've enjoyed."

MARK HEINY, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Heiny, 726 Park Dr. was placed in nomination by Washington C.H. football coach Paul Ondrus.

Heiny lettered in three sports in his high school career, received a total of five varsity letters.

Heiny became a pleasant surprise to the Blue Lion football team last season as he bloomed into the league's second leading passer.

He earned honorable mention in the state in addition to a first team, all-district berth and second team, ALL-SCOL honors. The senior co-captain also earned the most improved player trophy from the team.

Heiny was exactly 50 per cent with his passing, hooking up on 84 of 168 passes for 11 touchdowns. He set a school record for most completions in a single game and season and also broke the mark for most yardage gained by passing in one season.

Heiny was also a pitcher for the Lion baseball team that went to the regional tournament. He sported a 3-1 record with a 2.25 ERA.

Heiny has a 3.92 accumulative

Miss Swaney won a pair of MVP trophies while at Miami Trace. She was named MVP of the volleyball team last season and most valuable player of the basketball team in sophomore year.

In volleyball, her serving percentage was 92 per cent and in basketball she averaged 10.5 points a game while shooting 55 per cent from the field.

She is a member of the Pleasantview Church of Christ, Future Teachers, Future Nurses, and Varsity M. Club and is listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Attitude helps Zachry zap Braves

CINCINNATI (AP) — Pat Zachry, who had not won a game since April 27, threw caution to the wind as the Cincinnati Reds captured their fifth straight victory in the drive to catch the Los Angeles Dodgers.

"I decided the hell with it, just go out and throw the ball hard," said Zachry, 3-6, who had been nursing a sore arm most of the season. The 5-2 victory over the Atlanta Braves was his third complete game although he had lost his last four in a row.

"It's been a drop, a nightmare. You can't believe how it affects you. I was digging a hole that I couldn't get out of. I was beginning to wonder myself if I was mentally tough enough to come out of it," Zachry said.

The victory was the third straight over Atlanta and put the Reds at 23-23. The Reds trail Los Angeles by 9½ games in the National League Western Division.

"This is the best game we've played all year," said Reds Manager Sparky Anderson. You can't do nothing until you get over the .500 mark.

"The best thing about it is its all spread out and no one person is carrying the load," said Anderson.

"The Reds are always hot," said Atlanta Manager Dave Bristol, who is appealing a five day suspension and $500 fine imposed for allegedly bumping umpire Lee Weyer during a disputed play Tuesday night.

"They are back in the race. Come September and you'll see it," said Bristol, then turned to his rookie pitchers.

"We got good pitching from Jamie Easterly and Don Collins. They're both from our kiddie corps. Both must learn to win up here," in the major leagues. Easterly, 2-2, was tagged with the loss.

Zachry got off to a shaky start giving up four hits and six walks in the first five innings, but pitched runless ball from the sixth on retiring the least 11 hitters he faced.

The Braves scored a run in the second inning when Easterly slashed a run scoring single with two on.

The Reds took a 2-1 lead in the bottom of the inning when Dan Diresen singled home two runs.

Jeff Burroughs tied the score with his 12 home run in third inning but Pete Rose, who had singled, came home on Joe Morgan's grounder.

Geronimo singled home another in the fourth inning.

The Reds open a four game series tonight with the Houston Astros.

Two-day harness horse camp slated for youths

By PHIL LEWIS
Record-Herald City Editor

Racing and breeding harness horses is a thriving industry in Fayette County, and area youths will have a chance to learn about the industry this month at a special camp at the Fayette County Fairgrounds.

The two-day harness horse camp for 4-H aged young people will be held at the fairgrounds June 20-21. It will be the first of six camps scheduled in Ohio this summer by the Ohio Standardbred Breeders Association.

Besides the two-day camp scheduled later this month at the Fayette County Fairgrounds, five other camps will be held.

On June 22-23, a camp will be held at the Darke County Fairgrounds in Greenville; on June 27-28, at the Wayne County Fairgrounds in Wooster; on June 29-30, at the Lake County Fairgrounds in Painesville; on July 11-12, at the Delaware County Fairgrounds in Delaware; and on July 13-14, at the Tom Mar Farm in Findlay.

Although the Fayette County camp was scheduled for youths in southern Ohio, interested persons can attend any or all of the six camps. Youths do not have to be members of a 4-H group to attend.

All six camps will follow similar instructional schedules and Dr. Junk has outlined the Fayette County program.

"In two days we will give information on lots of different phases of the standardbred industry," he said.

The first day's session will begin at 8:30 a.m. with group assignments. At 9 a.m., one group will drive harness horses while the other group studies care in feeding, bandaging, and worming a horse.

Those two sessions will last for 90 minutes and then the two groups will switch assignments. After a lunch and recreation period running from 12 noon to 2:45 p.m., movies will be shown and 4-H projects and other standardbred youth opportunities will be discussed.

The remainder of the afternoon and evening will be reserved for recreation and movies.

On the second day, youths attending the camp will again have a chance to drive a harness horse with a specially designed two-seat jog cart. The ground breaking of colts will also be demonstrated.

In the afternoon, a bus tour of area breeding farms will be conducted and that evening a bus will be provided for a trip to Scioto Downs for dinner and racing.

Assisting Dr. Junk with demonstrations will be Duane Thomas of the Ohio Agriculture Technical Institute and his co-workers.

Dr. Junk said camping facilities would be provided at the fairgrounds for youths who did not wish to return home after the first day's session. Registration for the two-day camp is $10.

To register for the camp, youths should send the registration fee along with their name, age, and phone number to the OSBA Foundation Office, Suite 3, 6076 Busch Blvd., Columbus. Additional information can be obtained by calling 614-846-1776.

Dr. Junk said persons interested in attending the Fayette County two-day camp should register immediately.

that youth has been neglected (by the standardbred industry)," Dr. Junk said. "What we are trying to do is introduce it to parents, county extension people on down to the kids."

The instructional camps are just one of the Ohio Standardbred Breeders Association (OSBA) Youth Foundation's programs that result from the annual OSBA stallion service auction. In addition, college scholarships totaling $2,500 will be awarded to students interested in standardbred breeding careers.

Besides the two-day camp scheduled later this month at the Fayette County Fairgrounds, five other camps will be held.

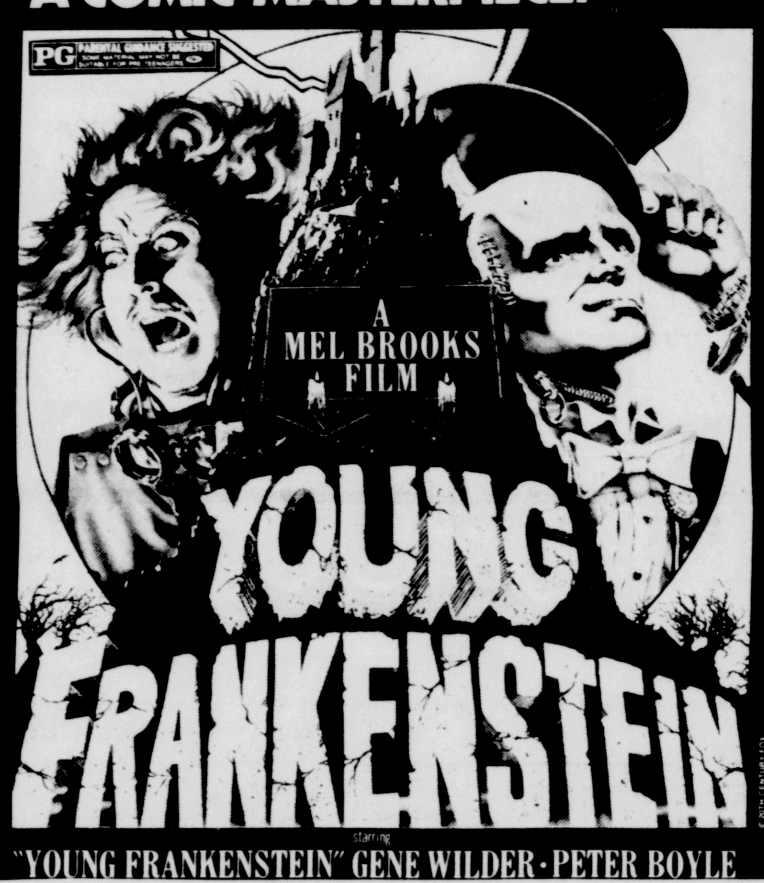

On June 22-23, a camp will be held at the Darke County Fairgrounds in Greenville; on June 27-28, at the Wayne County Fairgrounds in Wooster; on June 29-30, at the Lake County Fairgrounds in Painesville; on July 11-12, at the Delaware County Fairgrounds in Delaware; and on July 13-14, at the Tom Mar Farm in Findlay.

Firemen check strange odors

The Washington C.H. Fire Department was busy Wednesday sniffing out strange odors.

Shortly after 1 p.m., firemen were called to the D.E. Marsteller residence, 1116 Jamison Road, to investigate an odd odor report. Firemen could find no cause for the smell, but the home was ventilated to remove the odor.

Later that night, firemen were called to the Buckeye Mart store at 100 Washington Square on another odd odor report. Firemen reported that the smell was caused by a burned out ballast.

GTE calendar has little extras

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Some businesses give away calendars. But GTE Sylvania, Inc. gives away entire days.

Some GTE Sylvania customers were given calendars earlier in the year. When they tore the month of May out, June came up as expected. But it had 31 days. A further check showed September also had 31 days on the calendar.

Nowhere on the calendar could the printer's name be found.

A spokeswoman at the GTE Sylvania center in nearby West Seneca said she could offer no explanation for the extra days in June and September.

Thefts reported

The Mid-Ohio Chemical Co. building was the site of two thefts over the Memorial Day weekend, according to the Fayette County Sheriff's Department.

A citizen's band radio was taken from under the counter in the company office and thieves also stole a door from a 1969 model one-ton truck.

Mourners honor holocaust victims

TRENTON, Ohio (AP) — More than 2,000 people paused on a high school athletic field at sunset Wednesday to memorialize 13 friends and relatives killed in the Beverly Hills Supper Club fire.

"The sole purpose of this service is to commit to memory the 13 who are no longer among us," said Gene Bonny, principal at Edgewood High School.

As he read each of the 13 names, a school official walked to a table and put a red rose in a vase.

Then Bill Richardson, 17, a high school senior, slowly struck an orchestra chime 13 times while the crowd sat in silence. The only other sound came as blue and white bunting, a backdrop to the speakers stand, snapped in a brisk breeze.

A few hours earlier, the death toll in the fire rose to 161 when two more bodies were found in rubble of the club at Southgate, Ky., 40 miles south of here.

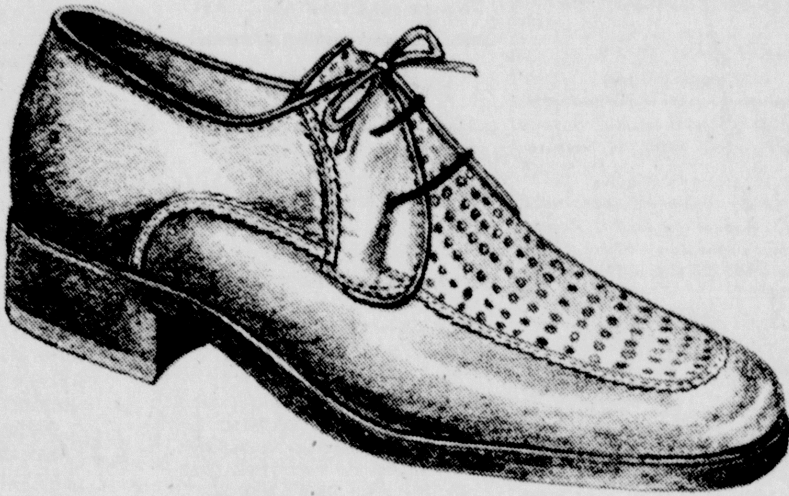

The 13 victims were in a party of 37 persons, mostly educators from rural southwest Ohio, who had gone to the club to celebrate the retirement of a teacher.

The six schools in the Edgewood district have been closed all week because of the tragedy. Most of the 3,200 students were to return to classes today for the final seven days of the school year.
